Check the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association 6th ed. for complete guidelines (Ref BF76.7. P83 2010). In addition Purdue Online Writing Lab provides excellent guidelines in formatting citations using the 6th edition APA style.

ENCYCLOPEDIAS

Electronic encyclopedia

BOOKS

Single author

3-7 authors

Edited work

Chapter or article in an edited work

PERIODICALS

Magazine or journal

Scholarly journal with continuous pagination

Newspaper article

PERIODICALS

Article from a database

Journal article with DOI (digital object identifier)

INTERNET

Journal article with home page URL

Web site article

To facilitate the location of sources, we have chosen to retain the name of the database rather than following the 6th edition guidelines, which call for using a DOI (digital object identifier) or periodical home page URL or database home page URL.

CITATIONS IN THE TEXT

Citations in the text are a basic part of every research paper. Any time you use a direct quote, paraphrase something you have read, or use a specific idea or fact from your reading, you need to cite the source. APA style uses in-text citations to refer the reader to the specific bibliographic citation in the list of References. Citations are placed in the body of your paper, following the specific part of the text to which they apply. If the in-text citation is at the end of a sentence, place it before the period. To cite a specific book or article, use the author’s last name, followed by the year of publication. If there is no author listed, use the first few words of the title in quotes. To cite a direct quote or give credit for something such as summarized information, a chart or graph, include author’s name and specific page number (p.) or numbers (pp.). If no page number is visible, cite the author, year, section heading (if applicable) and paragraph number.

Citing a book or article: (Waller, 2001)
Citing a source with no author: (“Separation Anxiety,” 2007)
Citing a specific quote: (French, 1963, p. 25)
Citing a specific quote from a web page: (Jones, 2008, Discussion section, para. 3)

REFERENCES LIST

All sources used or cited are listed at the end of your paper on a separate numbered page with the heading, References, centered at the top. Each source is listed alphabetically by the first author’s last name or the first significant word of the title (where there is no author or editor). References entries are double-spaced. The first line of each reference is not indented. Subsequent lines are indented using a hanging indent or a half-inch indentation.

IF YOU NEED MORE INFORMATION ABOUT APA STYLE – ASK A LIBRARIAN